Mr. More was the son of Solomon C. and Diantha M. More, and was born in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 26, 1850, but he and his parents had come to Salisbury while he was still a boy and he made this his home most of his sixty years with the exception of five or six years spent with an uncle, Loren Holman, in Atchison, Kan., and traveling in the west. Former Middlebury Boy Was 25 Years
A Prison Officer

News of the death of Jerry Haley, a native of Middlebury, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Haley who had always lived here up to the time of Mr. Haley's death several years ago, is contained in a copy of the Plattsburgh Daily Press received by The Register today. Mr. Haley was one of the guards at Clinton prison at Dannemora, N. Y., and had apparently been in perfect health until Monday night, October 13, and he died on Wednesday forenoon from cerebral apoplexy. On Tuesday while he lay senseless and dying from the shock he had suffered on Monday, Mr. Haley marked the 25th anniversary of his connection with the Clinton prison, where he had held the respect of his associates throughout his long service there. "Few men in Dannemora had more friends than Mr. Haley," says the Plattsburgh Press. He was 33 years old and is survived by two sons and one daughter all of Dannemora, his mother and two sisters, Lulu and Mrs. William Lamorder of Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Haley left Middlebury while still a young man, but his people are well known here, where he and they were members of St. Mary's Catholic church.

FERRISBURGH WOMAN
DROWNED IN CREEK

Mrs. Rose Garraty Sears, wife of James Sears of Ferrisburgh, met death by drowning while fishing in Little Otter creek in Ferrisburgh yesterday afternoon. The body was discovered about 3:30 o'clock by Napoleon Rivers, a plumber in the employ of J. W. and D. E. Ryan of Vergennes, who had been working at the Elmer P. Burket place about 20 feet from the river where the accident occurred.

Mrs. Sears was affected with epilepsy and it is thought she had an attack and fell face downwards into the river as the bank is very steep at that point. When found, she was lying on the bottom of the river, only a part of her dress being visible. It was this that drew Rivers' attention. Her fishing rod and a pail with several fish in it were found nearby.

With the help of two men from the Burket farm, Rivers removed the body from the water and after it had been viewed by the coroner, was taken to her home.

Mrs. Sears was about 40 years old and is survived by her husband, two sons by a previous marriage, Willard Comstock of Ferrisburgh and Delore Comstock, who is now serving in the army in Texas; her father, Edward Garraty of Ferrisburgh; three brothers, Harvey of Bristol, Commodore of Bennington and Edward Garraty, Jr., of Ferrisburgh, and three sisters, Mrs. Lena Dubuke and Mrs. Mina Thorpe of Ferrisburgh and Mrs. George Bostwick of Lincoln.

EXAMINATIONS

The place to have your eyes examined is an office where the examining room is fully equipped for doing the work right. In case of invalids or others who are unable to leave home of course you have to do the next best thing, but there is more chance of being dissatisfied when fitted at home, for it is impossible to transport equipment necessary for the most thorough work. Optometry methods have advanced during the last few years and with the universal use of automobiles there is now no excuse for not having a thorough going office examination of your eyes. We do work by appointment so as to assure each patient of the time necessary for good work.

PRICES GOING UP

In general, prices are going up. It is that way at least in the clothing business and the difficulty is to get the goods.

We were just wise enough to buy our fall and winter stock early last summer and deliveries have been made.

Since this stock was bought the prices have gone up several pags. We own our fall and winter goods at the months' ago prices.

Just a fair profit for us—that's all we want. So our prices are based on the present market price. This is all your gain. Simply—the "Square Deal."
